Safe Solutions for Transfers:

BILD offers the unique perspective of physical and occupational therapists along with a large variety of solutions for safe transfers, including options for safe exercise and weight bearing. This unique expertise of our therapists and teachers in safe patient handling helps us provide solutions that better suit your needs and protect your loved one as well as caregivers. We will also teach you to use your transfer device properly.

Manual sit-to-stand lifts

- For individuals with the ability to come to standing and decent trunk balance.
- Assists those with limited endurance and diminished ability to weight shift.
- Caregiver can easily move individual to different area of the house (including into the bathroom when space permits).
- No power or battery requirements.

Power sit-to-stand lifts

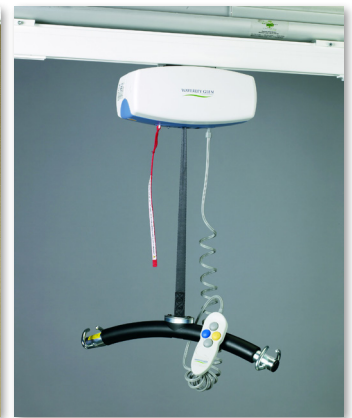

- Requires ability to come to sitting.
- Provides opportunity for weight bearing.
- Allows easier access to pants for toileting/commode transfers.
- May remove foot platform for ambulation and over-ground gait training.

Ceiling lifts – Ceiling lift systems provide a means for safer transfers of individuals who require much assistance for transferring. Ceiling lifts typically require fewer caregivers, and in some instances allow individuals to transfer themselves independently.

Ceiling lift systems can also provide full bathroom access for bathing and toileting without requiring the need for remodeling.
